The confidential Veterans Crisis Line, online chat, and text are available, and we are here for you.

If you’re a Veteran in crisis, or are the family member or friend of one, VA offers help that can make a difference. The Veterans Crisis Line is staffed by caring, qualified VA responders — some of them Veterans or family members of Veterans themselves — who understand what Veterans have been through. The Veterans Crisis Line, online chat, and text are available to all Veterans and their families and friends, even if they are not registered with VA or enrolled in VA health care.

VA responders are standing by 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year to provide confidential support by phone or online chat. Assistance is only a phone call, click, or text away. You’ve served us. Now let us serve you.

CALL US IN TIMES OF CRISIS
People experience emotional and mental health crises in response to a wide range of situations — from difficulties in their personal relationships to the loss of a job. For Veterans, these crises can be heightened by their experiences in military service. When emotional issues reach a crisis point, it’s time to call on the Veterans Crisis Line for support.

Sometimes, a crisis may involve thoughts of suicide. Learn to recognize these warning signs:

Hopelessness, feeling like there’s no way out
Anxiety, agitation, sleeplessness, or mood swings
Feeling like there is no reason to live
Rage or anger
Engaging in risky activities without thinking
Increasing alcohol or drug abuse
Withdrawing from family and friends

The presence of the following signs requires immediate attention:

Thinking about hurting or killing yourself
Looking for ways to kill yourself
Talking about death, dying, or suicide
Self-destructive behavior such as drug abuse, weapons, etc.

IT’S OUR CALL.
WE’VE EARNED IT.
“Right after I got out of active duty I was adjusting to civilian life and going through some hard times. I had a lot of family issues. I called the Veterans Crisis Line and I got help. Treatment works. I know.”

Marc Soper, U.S. Army, 1983–2005

“Everyone always told me everything was going to be OK. Calling the Veterans Crisis Line helped that become a reality.”

“The road is hard, but there’s help out there, all you have to do is ask. First step is to call, and that is the hardest, but you have to break that ice. Start by calling the Veterans Crisis Line.”
